

Undergraduate Research Opportunities

The Living Lab is looking for volunteer Research Assistants interested in social cognitive development. Our research explores how children develop preferences and stereotypes, and the developmental trajectory of these implicit and explicit processes.

The Living Lab is located at Science World—Research Assistants must be able to commute their for our research.

Ideal Candidates:

Ideal candidates will have a keen interest in research with infants and children, related or relevant experiences with children, infants and/or research, and an average grade of 80% or above.

Contact: email baronlabmgr@psych.ubc.ca with the following:

- a resume/CV
- unofficial transcript with current & past courses (screenshot from SSC)
- complete the application form: <https://bit.ly/2Okce5l>
- provide regular weekly availability for the upcoming semester from 9AM to 6PM, including screenshot of registered courses (if any)

